BRITISH SEAMEN FOR BRITISH SHIPS.

REPORT OF THE MERCANTILE MARINE COMMITTEE.

We understand that the Committee appointed by the Board of Trade in January, 1902, to inquire into certain questions affecting the mercantile marine have, agreed upon the following recommendations: (1) The employment of a properly certificated cook on every foreign-going vessel of 1,000 tons gross register and over; (2) the extension of the present system of inspection of ship's provisions by power being given to the Board of Trade to inspect, in any case in which they think fit, the provisions of any vessel whose probable voyage exceeds twenty-one days' duration; (3) power to be given to superintendents to forbid the engagement of any foreign seaman who does not possess a knowledge of the English language sufficient for the understanding of orders; (4) power to be given to the Board of Trade to withhold the continuous discharge certificate of any seaman who wilfully fails to join a vessel after signing articles; (5) efforts to be made to increase the numbers of the Royal Naval Reserve, especially of stokers on foreign-going vessels, and by improved inducements and more active recruiting; (6) a reference, by way of appeal, to a superintendent to be allowed to seamen in cases in which the master gives a bad character in discharge or "declines to report"; (7) facilities to be given to foreign seamen who have served for four years in British ships to become, by an easy process without expense, British subjects by naturalisation; (8) the establishment of a system of voluntary examination and certification of masters and officers in the elements of medical knowledge; (9) the universal adoption in British ships of a specified scale of provisions; (10) the provision of as comfortable living quarters as can practically be given to seamen on board ship; and (11) every encouragement to be given to training ships and to the training of boys in merchant vessels with the object of increasing the number of British seamen in the mercantile marine. The Committee express the view that the first four of these proposals will require legislation, but effect could be given to the succeeding recommendations without any change in the law.

In the course of their report, the Committee state that, in their opinion, Lascars and other Asiatics who are British subjects stand on a different footing from foreigners, and that, apart from their claim as British subjects, they have also some claim for employment, because British vessels have displaced the native trading vessels. Although Lascars and other Asiatics are engaged almost exclusively in steam vessels, they now exceed the total number of foreign seamen in all classes of British ships, and their increase during recent years has been very much more rapid than the decrease of British or in case of foreign seamen employed. Lascars, it is added, are in most cases headstrong, sailors, and have special qualifications for work as firemen in hot climates. They are temperate, and those who appeared before the Committee made a most favourable impression. The evidence showed that they were most amenable and contented crews, and that, in consequence, their employment as firemen had grown largely, not only in the tropics, but also in vessel trading between ports within the tropics and the United Kingdom. The Committee do not feel competent to express any decided opinion in regard to the employment of Lascars in men-of-war, but they have no doubt of their desire to be so employed or of their competency at least in the capacity of stokers and firemen. On the whole, therefore, the Committee conclude that the objections which may be entertained to the employment of foreign seamen do not apply to the employment of Lascars and other Asiatics who are British subjects. The report is signed by Sir Francis Jeune (chairman), Mr. W. F. G. Anderson, Captain H. A. Acton-Blake, Mr. Burt, M.P., Captain A. J. G. Chalmers, Colonel Danny, M.P., Mr. W. J. Howell, Vice-Admiral R. M. Lloyd, Mr. W. Milburn, jun., and Mr. Havelock Wilson. — The Times.

What the conditions are against which the Britisher kicks we learn from the evidence of Mr. J. H. Longford, H.M. Consul at Nagasaki. He says: "A more unattractive home than the forecastle of an ordinary sailing ship could not easily be imagined. What it must be in the tropics, when necessarily almost hermetically closed on account of heavy weather, with damp clothes hanging in it, with orders of food and stale tobacco and foul atmosphere, is not pleasant to think of."

HONGKONG, FRIDAY, JULY 10, 1903.

THE ADMIRALTY DOCK.

So unexpected has been the result of the public petition to Mr. Chamberlain and so disappointing the nature of the reply from the Admiralty Lords, that a public meeting is mooted to mark the sense of indignation on the part of the inhabitants of the Colony. Such a meeting, in our opinion, can have absolutely no effect whatever beyond emphasizing the helplessness of the community in a matter with which the Colony is vitally concerned and as regards which representative members should be those best able to form a judgment. The gods have spoken, however, and the Colony must "perforce" lapse into a state of quiescence against the arbitrary dictum of the Naval Officials who have interposed in the commercial expansion of the port in a manner whereby Imperial interests have had but little to gain and the Colony all to lose.

THE DISTURBANCES IN KWANGSI.

What Imperial Edicts and so-called departmental strategy have hitherto failed to achieve in the disturbed provinces of South China appears more likely to be accomplished by the energetic Tsen Ch'u-hsuen, who has gained distinction for the determined and fearless manner with which he entered upon his term of office as Viceroy of the Two Kwang. We have already alluded to his activity in Canton officialdom, and to the fact of his proceeding to take up his residence in the heart of the troubled Province of Kwangsi, and we now learn he has been carrying his campaign among the districts of the province with the determination of duty in failing to deal with persons whom they knew to be desperate characters, and who afterwards banded together and plundered the villages on every hand. The officials plead that they cannot keep the country under their control, and state that when arrests are effected prominent personages find sureties and so the men are allowed to go. Many of them are people of high standing, and although the officials know they are being deceived give way to their demands for fear of being molested. The Viceroy admits that the Imperial troops are poorly paid, if paid at all, and is not surprised they desert to the rebel ranks. Surrounded by corrupt officials, traitorous troops and desperate ruffians H. E., in replacing the sword in its scabbard, means to deal with the matter in methods calculated to bring about surprising results. It is his intention of withdrawing all the military troops from the different villages and making the district officials entirely responsible for the good behaviour of persons in the country under their care. The numerous robberies and disturbances have to cease or Viceroy Tsen will have some comments to make, which will not be calculated to improve the moral or physical standing of offenders. If, however, robbers band together in numbers of more than a hundred Imperial troops will be despatched and then it is to be a question of a fight to a finish. How far this method of dealing with a disturbed district will go towards ensuring a satisfactory settlement of a long standing discontent remains to be seen, but from what we know of the Viceroy's character during his short stay at Canton he will attain his object at whatever cost.

ANOTHER YELLOW PERIL.

Lecturing before the Hongkong Odd Volumes Society last December on the subject of malaria and its relation to the mosquito, Dr. J. C. Thomson, M.D., M.A., told us that from the 1st March Hongkong would be in direct communication with one of the great endemic centres of yellow fever, and we might any day thereafter have the disease landed on our shores. If yellow fever should visit Hongkong, he said, we have a mosquito swarming in the colony which can cause it to become epidemic. We now learn that the medical officer of Sierra Leone is convinced, that with the completion of the Panama Canal the possibility of the introduction of yellow fever into

Asia becomes a real danger, and considers it to be the imperative duty of all the civilised nations having interests in the Far East to ward off this danger by every means known to science. At a meeting of the Epidemiological Society in February, Dr. Manson pointed out that shiploads of labourers would soon be plying between Panama and the seaports of Asia, and that if the traffic were unrestricted the disease would inevitably be introduced into the populous, densely crowded, and insanitary cities of China and India, where its ravages would be incomparably greater than they could be in the sparsely peopled countries and smaller cities of South America. The quarantine regulations against yellow fever that have been in force in the West Indies up to the present time have been unnecessarily strict in some particulars, and at the same time inefficient and often exceedingly lax in others. It is now suggested that apart from more effective sanitary measures at the central American port of departure steps be taken at the Asiatic ports where steamers, not having been cleared of mosquitoes before leaving the Isthmus, should not be allowed to come within a mile of the nearest shore, but should anchor at a specified berth, where it could be fumigated before being allowed to come nearer. The most efficient method of preventing the spread of the fever would be to board it in its den, and Dr. St. George Gray, of Sierra Leone, thinks that each nation should contribute its share of the cost in proportion to the magnitude of its interests in the East and drive yellow fever out of the Isthmus of Panama. But the Canal is not yet finished, and before seeking 'fresh woods and pastures new' for diseases which may possibly come this way the authorities might be well advised to continue their campaign against the formidable array of death-dealing enemies already in our midst.

IT appears that some of the men employed in distributing rice in Kwang Si are not very enthusiastic over a telegram which was received from Canton. A cargo of rice was sent up and to be distributed by "American citizens" only. Unfortunately the telegram met with the fate it deserved. There was no American citizen at hand to receive it and it had to be consigned to the tender mercies of some good British subjects who, notwithstanding the objectionable telegram, took charge of the work of distribution. Perhaps the telegram was a joke, if so it was a bad one.

A MEETING of the Justices of the Peace was held at the Magistracy this afternoon, for the purpose of considering the application of Hans Peter Jertrum for the transfer of his publican's licence to sell and retail intoxicating liquor on the premises situated at Nos. 266 and 268 Queen's Road Central, under the sign of the "German Tavern" to Paul Missing. The Magistrates present were Messrs. J. H. Kemp, F. Lyons, R. H. Craig, and C. D. Melbourne. Mr. Grist appeared for Mr. Jertrum, and the application was granted.

DR. A. D. Peill, of the London Missionary Society, says Chinese Chess is very similar to our, but differs in a few interesting points. The king is called general, and has no queen (illustrative of the degraded position of women in China), but a queer one-step-at-a-time diagonally-moving piece at each side instead. The bishops are represented by elephants with the same powers. They have horses with the same powers as our knights, and instead of castles they use cannons, with a curious movement, the same in direction as our rook, but the piece is moved in an opposite over the top of one intervening piece—not when directly exposed.

MR. F. B. L. Bowley, secretary and librarian of the City Hall Library, has forwarded to us a copy of the latest catalogue and rules of the free lending collection. We were not aware that our local "treasure house of knowledge" contained so many volumes as are now classified in this work, and hope that the publication of the catalogue will be the means of bringing the lending library into more prominence than it has been for some time past. Readers will find fiction, travel, politics, history, biography, poetry and drama galore, and will make a sound investment by paying a dollar and securing a copy of the catalogue from Messrs. Kelly and Walsh. The thanks of the community are due to those responsible for the compilation of the work.

REPORTS from St. Petersburg confirm the statement that time-expired soldiers of the Russian Army Manchuria and the Amur district are not sent home, but are placed at the disposal of the Military authorities, and are partly enrolled in the Railway Protection Force, which includes eight Line and four Reserve Battalions belonging to the Frontier Guard Corps in Manchuria, with about 22 guns. Besides the railway protection troops there are at present in Manchuria the Staff of the 2nd Siberian Army Corps, 20 battalions of rifleman and one reserve battalion, two artillery brigades, two machine-gun companies, three Cossack regiments, and one Cossack battery. To this must be added the garrison artillery, with heavy guns, which has evidently been transferred there to occupy important positions prepared for it.

OF all the nations of the East, the island Empire of Japan has alone answered effectively to the call of Western civilisation. She has done so because her people possess that which the swarming people of China lack, a keen sense of patriotism; because she possessed in the Samurai class a proud and warlike clan that could not tolerate the thought of foreign tutelage and exploitation; and because she possessed in her ancient dynasty a rallying point and a capable centre for statesmanlike organisation. "Better fifty years of Europe than a cycle of Cathay," sang the poet; but the couplet has been turned inside out, for the fifty years Japan has absorbed a cycle of Europe. The best testimony that the absorption has been well done is the treaty of alliance between the two island Empires, an alliance in which extreme Asia and extreme Europe meet on an equal footing. The treaty is a tribute to the excellence with which Japan has been served by her Emperor, her statesmen, her sailors, and her soldiers.—Town and Country Journal (Australia).

A SPECIAL report by the director of the Kailashan Observatory states that after a long period of comparative quiescence a fresh outbreak of sun spots had occurred. There were three extensive groups; though the individual spots were not large. The weather prevented an observation of the spectra and prominences.

DURING the recent rain-storm, the district of Hock-shan, situated about 85 miles from Canton, was completely flooded and 600 houses damaged. The number of lives lost is not recorded, but we are informed they are not many, for the villagers were all warned by the beating of gongs, and so had time to make for the mountains.

ONE of the masts of the old Spanish flagship Reina Cristina, which sank during the battle of Manila Bay, has been secured by an enterprising young American who paid a substantial price for the relic, and then had it turned into walking sticks. This he sold to patriotic Americans, but the number disposed of would far exceed the cubic contents of that mast.

A LETTER from Sir Conan Doyle states, says the New York correspondent of the Standard, that he is going to spend the summer at Mont-tank, in order to revive Sherlock-Holmes in a series of stories and mysteries of American origin. With a view of obtaining local colour, he has leased a hotel which is usually vacant in summer but in the winter is a sporting centre.

FOOTBALL has found its way to Port Swettenham and some desperate games between mixed teams of Europeans and Malays have recently taken place there. A regular club for general recreation purposes is being formed, and a recent visitor says that the place gives indications of a prosperity and vitality which no one who knew it ten years ago could possibly have conceived.

CANTON NOTES.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

CANTON, July 8th.

THE KWANGSI FAMINE.

Several of the missionaries who have been in Kwangsi assisting at the distribution of rice have returned. They report much improvement in the condition of things. The harvest is on in many places and the new rice is available. According to some of them money is now more needed than rice. In most places the distribution of rice has stopped and efforts are being made to find the poor people through-out the famine district who have not been able to come to the centres of distribution and who are destitute. To these are given tickets which on presentation at certain places will secure for the holders either money or rice. Those who have contributed to the "famine relief" may have the satisfaction of knowing that their timely aid resulted in the saving of many lives and much misery. One of worst features of the distribution was the efforts made by strong-well nourished men to get large quantities of free rice. In many cases feeble women and children were pushed aside or trampled upon by these strong men in their efforts to get rice, not to save life, but to make money.

THE ST. LOUIS EXPOSITION.

The work to secure exhibits for the St. Louis Exhibition has now begun in earnest. The Chinese are taking to it very enthusiastically. Mr. Geo. Williams of the Customs has the matter in hand. His experience in the Hanoi Exhibition will be profitable to the St. Louis work. Many Cantonese firms have decided to send large quantities of goods. The difficulty will not be in getting a large exhibit but in confining the exhibit to manageable size.

TAELS 2,000 PAID TO EVADE HONGKONG.

H. E. Teh Shou, ex-Governor of Kwangtung and Director-General designate of the Tribute Rice, arrived here yesterday morning in the "China Merchants" steamer Kwangli, reports the Shanghai Times of 6th inst. His Excellency has put at the Ambassador's Hall attached to the Queen of Heaven Temple in Hongkw. His Excellency will stay here for a few days before going to Tsingkiangpoo to take up his new appointment there. The Kwangli conveyed His Excellency direct from Canton to this port without touching at Ho-gkong, to suit His Excellency's purpose, as his Excellency did not want to pass Hongkong, lest the Hongkong Government might go for him, because evidence has been found leading to the fact that the men who murdered the reformer Yeung Ku-wan in the Colony last year, was hired by him. His Excellency hired the Kwangli for Tls. 2,000 to compensate the loss incurred by her for not touching Hongkong.

THE PLAGUE.

Six fatal Chinese cases of plague comprised the return for the twenty-four hours ended at noon to-day. The total number of cases since the beginning of the year is 1,318.

Mr. Whitaker-Wright.

LONDON, 8th July.
Mr. Whitaker-Wright who has formally waived further examination in extradition is proceeding to New York and sails for England on the 29th instant to stand his trial; he declares that he is hastening home to prove his innocence.

President Loubet in England.

President Loubet entertained the King at dinner at the French Embassy; there were no formal toasts. At a Gala Opera performance afterwards the scene was of unrivalled splendour.

LATER.

There is a general consensus of opinion that President Loubet's visit has been an unqualified success both socially and politically. President Loubet placed a wreath on Queen Victoria's tomb and witnessed a review at the Aldershot in the afternoon.

M. Delcassé has had a prolonged interview with Lord Lansdowne.

Owing to the urgent representations of Austria and Russia, Prince Ferdinand has given the strongest assurances that Bulgaria will not proceed with further military preparations.

CHINA-AUSTRALIA CARRIERS.

QUEENSLAND COASTAL TRADE.

At a meeting of the council of the Brisbane Chamber of Commerce Mr. L. H. Spence introduced the subject of the disability under which Queensland shippers laboured in trading with Thursday Island. Owing to the heavy port dues, China boats could not take cargo from Brisbane to northern ports, including Thursday Island; but Sydney, Melbourne, and other ports outside Queensland (being foreign ports), China and Japan vessels could take cargo, and supply the northern port, to the disadvantage of Brisbane, Townsville, and Cooktown.

Mr. Spence contended that the prohibiting of the carriage of cargo by the China boats protected Sydney merchants, to the detriment of Brisbane, as vessels shipped cargo at Sydney, which would be shipped at Brisbane if the authorities allowed it. He considered that it would be unjust to allow overseas vessels to trade between Brisbane and Townsville, but Thursday Island stood in a unique position; and as the attitude of the authorities was one to hamper Thursday Island and Brisbane, and to further Sydney merchants, it would be well for Queensland to adopt some fair means of treating her own commercial men. By failing to look at the matter in its true light, they were simply making Sydney the market for Thursday Island in preference to their own merchants.

Eventually it was agreed that Mr. Spence should draft a motion on the subject, for consideration at next meeting.

INDO-CHINA S. N. CO.

The Financial Times of the 20th of May has the following comment on the recent report of the Indo-China S. N. Co.:

Shareholders are not unacquainted with the vicissitudes of fortune, but the report for the past year comes as a distinct disappointment. The Directors remark that the depressed condition of the shipping trade in the Far East will have prepared the proprietors for financial results much less satisfactory than the handsome earnings of 1900 and 1901, and they express satisfaction at the fact that after allowing for the usual premium of insurance to underwriting account and for depreciation, etc., the revenue account shows a credit balance. But the decline in the net earnings of steamers is a serious matter, as the following figures indicate:

1900	£188,817
1901	148,061
1902	59,913

Seeing that the gross tonnage of the fleet has been increased in the three years from 66,191 to 80,355 tons, the falling-off is most disappointing. True, the shareholders are to receive a dividend of 5 per cent., which compares with 14 per cent for 1900 and 10 per cent for 1901, but the distribution, which absorbs £74,704, is rendered possible only by the transfer of £2,656 from the underwriting account, which, thanks to absence of loss or damage for a long time, is nearly equal to half the paid-up capital of the Company. It will be remembered that an increase of capital was mooted last year with the view of building more vessels, but in the circumstances it is not surprising to learn that the operation has not been proceeded with. The freight market has recently undergone some improvement, but the outlook does not seem to have been regarded with much confidence.

THE FOOCHOW DOCKYARD.

A STRANGE RUMOUR.

It is freely rumoured in Peking that the Minister of a Power, who shall for obvious reasons be at present nameless, called lately at the "Waiwupu" to ask whether the report that the Central Government had mortgaged the Foochow Naval dockyard and gun foundry there to the French for a certain sum of money was true. "If true," said the foreign official, "then I beg to demand on behalf of my own country the loan of one of your Southern Armies, and also certain forts which will be named in detail when the time comes." The fogies at the "Waiwupu" (says the N. C. D. News) could give no coherent reply to their visitor, and on his leaving, he started without delay to Eho Park to report the matter to the Empress Dowager.

THE WRECK OF THE "CARRIER DOVE."

The N. C. D. News of 6th inst. reports:—In Saturday's issue we published a brief report from Capt. Wallace, of the C.M.S. Heian, of the wreck off Shaveishan, of the American schooner Carrier Dove, and the rescue of her captain and crew by the Heian. We are now able to give the following particulars. The Carrier Dove is a four-masted schooner of 634 tons register, and left Vancouver for Puget Sound and Shanghai on the 24th April. At Puget Sound she shipped up wards of a million feet of lumber. About 9.30 a.m. on the 30th of June, she went ashore on a sand-bank N. of Shaveishan, in Lat. 31° 39' N., Long. 122° 03' E. Captain Jensen was under the impression that he was in the vicinity of the North Saddle, the weather being very hazy at the time. When he saw that it was impossible to keep the vessel from going aground, the captain adopted the next best course, and ran her high and dry ashore on the bank. The crew were then landed in boats, one of their number being unfortunately drowned through the capsizing of one of the boats. Signals were hoisted and the first boat to sight them was the C.M.S. Heian, bound North. The Heian hove to, but seeing that the crew were safe and the vessel was in no danger of breaking up, she continued her voyage. On Friday morning the signals were seen by the C.M.S. Heian, and Capt. Wallace, of that vessel, sent the chief officer ashore with a boat to take off the shipwrecked crew. On Saturday morning the wreck was again sighted by the C.M.S. Heian, which reported the vessel safe and the sea smooth. Salvaging appliances have already been sent to the scene of the wreck and it is expected that the vessel will be refloated.

JAPANESE STEAMSHIP SERVICE.

The Japan Times states that there is a scheme on foot for opening between Japan and Siam a regular steamship service by prolonging the Formosan route of the Osaka Shosen Kaisha. Negotiations are being conducted on this subject between Baron Kojima, Governor-General of Formosa, and Mr. Inagaki, Japanese Minister to Siam.

ENTERING AN UNOPENED PORT.

CAPTAIN OF "BENVEHUE" FINED.

A few days ago the Benvenue, of the "Ben" line of steamers, arrived at Kobe from some port. The vessel had not been long in the harbour before the master, Captain Webster, received a summons to attend before the Customs authorities, by whom he was examined on complying with the summons, and fined ¥15, his offence being, it appears, an infringement of Article 18 of the Customs Law.

Seen by a representative of the local Chronicle the Captain said the Benvenue which left Kobe on the 5th September last year for Yokohama was light, carrying only two hundred tons of cargo, and had the coast on her lee. The weather grew hourly worse, and under these disadvantages, with the object of protecting his ship, crew, and cargo, he made for the nearest harbour, which happened to be the almost land-locked Kuda Bay in Kishu. For two days, the Captain said, a terrific typhoon blew outside, and even in the safe harbour of Kuda Bay, the Benvenue, with all available anchors in use, came near being driven ashore. "In the second day of their stay in port," the steamer was boarded by twelve policemen, who could not venture afloat earlier because of the storm. The police obtained the particulars they required and left, the Benvenue afterwards continuing its voyage to Yokohama, and from there on to England, the Captain thinking nothing more about the incident. As indicating the nature of the weather on that occasion, Captain Webster remarks that on that voyage the Glenn left Kobe a little later than the Benvenue and took three days to reach Yokohama, which was done with cargo and vessel damaged, while the German mail from Yokohama also took three days to reach Kobe.

Captain Webster also had something to say with regard to port regulations. He had been charged with a breach of the Customs Law. In Japan, he said, they were expected to know the regulations of the ports before they entered them. In Hongkong and other ports a Captain on entering a port was supplied with a copy of the port's regulations, which was expected to be returned before the vessel left. In these cases a Captain had an opportunity of learning the rules in force, but this method was not in vogue in Japan, although the Customs authorities were not slow in enforcing the penalty for infringement against all and sundry.

The Chronicle understands that the fine has not been paid, and says the case may come before the Courts. It is extraordinary if, in future foreign vessels are to understand that they can only enter unopened ports for shelter in bad weather at the risk of fine. The decision, as it stands, seems to us in flat defiance of both law and equity.

The Article alleged to have been infringed runs as follows:—"A vessel engaged in foreign trade may not enter or leave an unopened port, but this does not apply to vessels in distress or to other cases where unavoidable circumstances exist. When a vessel engaged in foreign trade has entered an unopened port, for any of the above reasons, the master shall forthwith report the reason to a Customs official, or, if there be no Customs official, to a police officer. Punishment for infringement of this rule is a fine not exceeding ¥2,000. Now, as the master's evidence shows, it was impossible to make such a report before the police came off, because of the bad weather; and yet the Customs regard the offence as one to be met by a fine. Though the fine is a nominal one, the principle at stake is important.

GOLD STANDARD FOR PHILIPPINES.

READY TO RUE.

The Philippines may prepare for the new money system. With a week or so probably, the Commission will emit a large quantity of the new pesos, and the gold basis will be in effect, reports the Cablenews.

The leading bankers of Manila will meet with the Commission on Monday. The best-laid plans will be put into execution for a turning over of the present base metal coinage into one of gold and silver.

The time is ripe for the change, and the pesos are here. Now presents itself the question of how commerce and especially petty commerce, and labour will adapt itself to the change. The peso will be worth fifty cents gold. Its value is certain. The Mexican, or Spanish Filipino dollar is now valued at about forty-one and a half cents.

Will the small merchant, the cocher, the muchacho, the labourer ask for as many gold pesos as he has been receiving under the old system? If he does and the employer or buyer has to pay on this basis, it will mean a loss of nearly twenty per cent. to him. It will mean the difference between forty-one and a half cents and fifty cents gold. The trouble will be that the labourer, the small dealer and the muchacho will not readily grasp the real value of the new peso. Of course, the Commission will fix its value in the old money, the day it emits the initial batch of coins.

But the Filipino is slow in money matters, and it will take much explanation and considerable time to teach him the new idea. The employer of labour will be able, of course, to go into the market and buy Mexican pesos to pay off his help if they refuse to take Conants at the gold value. But even then Mexicans would doubtless advance under demand. It is a matter that will adjust itself in time but at first may be annoying.

THE RAUB AUSTRALIAN GOLD MINING CO., LD.

The directors have the pleasure to present herewith the balance sheet and profit and loss account for the year ending 31st March, 1903, the Singapore accounts incorporated therein being closed on the 28th February.

During the year a change of management at Raub occurred. The late mining manager, having been offered an appointment in Australia, tendered his resignation. The directors were then able to avail themselves of the advice and assistance of the chairman—Mr. De Burgh Perse—who had visited Singapore and was then in London, in selecting a general manager for Raub. As a result, the directors were fortunate in securing the services of Mr. G. C. Warnford Lock, F.G.S., M.I.M.M., etc., a gentleman of world-wide repute in the mining world, and Mr. Martin, as mine manager (in place of Mr. Waters), who had vast experience in South Africa and South America.

The annual report on the mines now furnished by Mr. Lock, gives an excellent account of the work done during a period of nine (9) months under which the Mines have been under his able control.

In accordance with the articles of association, all the directors, Messrs. De Burgh Perse, Robert Philp, George Frederick Scott, and James Forsyth, and the auditor, T. A. Bond, retire, but are eligible for re-election, and offer themselves accordingly.

It will devolve upon the meeting to elect directors and auditor, and to fix the auditor's remuneration.

DE BURGH PERSE, Chairman.

Brisbane, 26th May, 1903.

THE WEATHER.
The following report is from Mr. F. G. Figg, Acting Director of the Hongkong Observatory—
On the 10th at 11.35 a.m. The depression in the North has passed to the N.E. of Japan. The barometer has risen quickly over Central and W. Japan, and slightly over the E. coast of China.
A fall has occurred over Luzon.
Pressure is high between the E. coast of China and W. Japan. A low pressure trough, in which a circular depression may form shortly, lies over the N. part of the China Sea. Fresh N.E. winds in the Formosa Channel, and off the S. coast of China.
Forecast—fresh N.E. winds; squally, showery.
